Trauma Sensitive Yoga Studio Practices

Yoga Studios displaying the Take Back The Night Foundation’s “Survivor Support and Safety” Seal of Approval are committed to ensuring survivors of sexual violence in any form are able to practice in an environment that is respectful of their experience and healing process. Studios with the Seal agree to:

Create a space of inclusion: All students are welcomed in the studio space. Instructors introduce themselves and encourage students to let them know about any special needs or any questions they may have. Students understand the studio protocols, including where the mats are, where to put personal belongings, where the bathrooms are, etc.

Create a space of safety: Students are honored wherever they are and invited to connect with breath as a guide. Instructors provide pose (asana) variations and adaptations. Instructors give students options (no hands, eyes open or closed, etc.) in a compassionate, non-competitive way.

Create a space of empowerment: Instructors acknowledge effort in all aspects of the practice. Instructors teach how students can care for themselves. Instructors utilize their voice and compassionate language as an offering of support for students’ experiences.
