

> RECLAIM THE NIGHT 2006

women's march against rape and male violence

International Day to > End Violence Against Women

In Britain, there are an estimated 47,000 rapes every year. And each year, an estimated 300,000 women are sexually assaulted (British Crime Survey 2001).

Yet Britain's conviction rate is the lowest ever, at just 5.3 per cent.

In the workplace, 1 in 2 women are sexually harassed (EOC 2000).

Now more than ever women must come together to say 'no' to violence against women.

SATURDAY
25 NOVEMBER

Assemble 6pm

Trafalgar Square by Nelson's Column

8pm mixed rally,

University of London Union, Malet Street

with speakers, bands, DJs and licensed bar til late

To get involved or for more information, contact the London Feminist Network:
www.ldnfeministnetwork.ik.com or e-mail finn_mackay@yahoo.co.uk

Called by: London Feminist Network. Supporters include: NUS Women's Campaign, Greater London Domestic Violence Project, Women's Resource Centre, Refuge, Women's National Commission, Women's Aid Federation, BECTU, Abortion Rights, White Ribbon Campaign UK, Lilith Project, Truth About Rape, Object, Schools Out UK, Southall Black Sisters, Sheffield Fems, Vera Media